B.C. Train Crashes Hand Cars; 2 Killed

KAMLOOPS, B.C. (CP) — Two men were killed and four injured today when a westbound C.P.R. freight train collided with three handcars carrying a track-laying crew in a tunnel near Cherry Creek, 14 miles west of here. Dead: James O. Orr, about 55; J. Bodnar, 35. Injured: L. Bodnar-chuk, J. M. Bodner, M. Kraus and K. Kostenuk.

Duncan On Fast Time

The city council of Duncan at a meeting this morning voted in favor of daylight saving.

Not Seizing Wheat

WASHINGTON (AP) — Agriculture Secretary Anderson said today the U.S. government has no thought of requisitioning wheat from farmers in order to meet deficits for export abroad. Dean Acheson, acting Secretary of State, had said he believed drastic steps must be taken to get wheat and flour to the destitute overseas.

Ukrainians Raiding

PRAGUE (AP) — Czechoslovak troops have been called out to assist police in driving what are described as Ukrainian raiders from rural regions of eastern Slovakia, an official statement announced today. Recent Warsaw dispatches said Polish troops also were operating against raiders from the Ukraine who had burned hundreds of villages in southeastern Poland.

Onion Crop Reduced

BLENHEIM, Ont. (CP) — Two-thirds of eastern Canada's 1946 onion crop has been destroyed and the loss is expected to amount to be approximately $300,000, district farmers reported to

Fatal B.C. Fire

HUNDRED MILE HOUSE, B.C. (CP) — Oscar Mallicoat, 56, died and Mrs. H. Sundmann was badly burned Friday when fire destroyed Mallicoat's log cabin home at Hundred Mile House, 400 miles north of Vancouver. It was reported here today. Mrs. Sundmann was burned when she dashed into the flaming kitchen in an attempt to save Mallicoat.

Jewish Girls Held As Murder Suspects

JERUSALEM (Reuters) — Several girls whose hands bear scratches resembling barbed wire cuts were among the 79 persons held today by police for questioning in the slaying of seven British soldiers Thursday night at Tel Aviv.

An official eyewitness report of the shooting said two of the seven men were killed in their beds during the terrorist attack on a military car park.

A previous Reuter dispatch said the number killed was only two, but later it was established that the original figure of seven dead was correct.

Authorities said that during recent terrorist operations a number of girls—some of high school age—were reported to be carrying tommy guns.

The Tel Aviv police station was attacked simultaneously with the shooting against the car park and the area around the station was heavily mined by the terrorists to prevent reinforcements from reaching the troops and police.

Medal-Winner Dies

Fifteen-year-old Ross Brown, Boy Scout to whom the Cornwall Medal was awarded at a Government House investiture last month for his fortitude in carrying on despite serious illness for four years, died at his home at 1752 Adanac Street.

Lieutenant-Governor W. C. Woodward March 15 presented to Ross the medal which is given to scouts who endure pain and suffering with fortitude.

Weather Forecast

Victoria and Vicinity — Sunday: Overcast with intermittent rain in evening; moderate southeasterly winds; not much change in temperatures. Friday's temperatures: Min. 42; Max. 54. Sunshine: 9 hours, 6 minutes. Temperature noon, Saturday 49.

Services Vary As Daylight Saving Starts Sunday

If you wake up an hour wearier than usual Sunday morning you can blame it on daylight saving, for at midnight tonight residents of Greater Victoria will turn their clocks one hour ahead.

Port Alberni and Ladysmith will operate on daylight saving and Sooke businessmen have recommended the move for Sooke district. Other up-island points are discussing the question.

Transportation services in the Greater Victoria area will all be operating on daylight saving time on Sunday, while schoolchildren of the area and North Saanich will go to school Monday on the new time.

Civic offices and business establishments will carry on under daylight saving, as will provincial government offices when located in areas where daylight saving is adopted.

Ships of the C.P.R.'s B.C. Coast Service will continue to operate on standard time. The 120 p.m. ship will leave Victoria 120, standard time, which will be 220 daylight time. The 1030 a.m. boat leaving Vancouver will leave at 1030 standard time, which will be 1130 daylight saving time.

Midnight boats will continue to leave at midnight standard time.

Vancouver Island Coach Lines will operate on standard time for their up-island routes, and the Sooke and Jordan River route. All short lines including Sidney and West Saanich and the depot itself will be on daylight saving. Streetcar and bus schedules of the British Columbia Electric Railway Co. Ltd. will operate on daylight saving, beginning Sunday morning, with all times now shown in the company's schedules to be maintained as daylight saving times.

Trans-Canada Air Line flights will co-operate on standard time with 2 p.m. and 115 a.m. flights leaving on standard, which will be 3 p.m. and 215 p.m. daylight saving.

Canadian Pacific Air Lines will operate on daylight saving time between Victoria and Vancouver.

Hudson Bay Route 'Waste Of Money'

HALIFAX (CP) — Shipping officials here today generally were of opinion that opening of the Hudson Bay route would be a "tremendous waste of money." Commenting on a statement in Saskatoon Thursday by Municipal Affairs Minister J. H. Brokelbank of Saskatchewan that the route should be given "a fair chance . . . to prove itself," Halifax shipping men said opening of the route and of the port of Churchill, Man., would not be economically advantageous because of the short shipping season at that port.

The expense of maintenance of the port alone, they said, would be too tremendous to warrant opening it up to large-scale shipping.

Big 4 Ministers Write Preamble To Peace Treaty for Italy

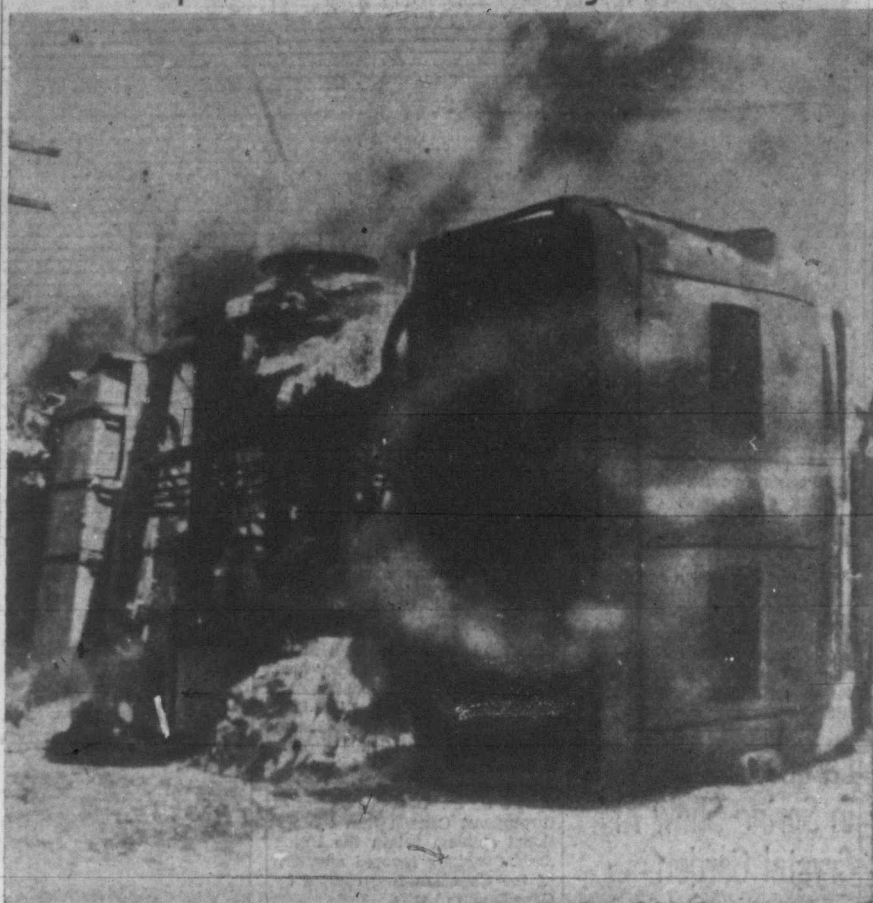

PARIS (CP) — The Big Four Foreign Ministers have got down to business in a 3½-hour meeting, reaching an agreement on the text of the preamble for an Italian Peace treaty and have decided to set up a committee of experts to go into the controversial question of the $300,000,000 reparations which Russia claims from Italy.

TRIESTE PROBLEM

Several big roadblocks lie right ahead, however, in the form of the disposition of Trieste, on which there are still believed to be wide differences of opinion within the Council, and on Russia's amazing claim for a mandate over the former Italian colony of Tripoli. This latter point, however, may be only a Soviet bargaining point.

State Secretary James Byrnes of the United States is pressing for a peace settlement with Austria and the Soviet delegation does not welcome this discussion, although the Russians have not yet taken any firm stand in opposition to Mr. Byrnes' proposal. It was learned from a reliable British source.

Driver Escapes With Life From Flaming Bus In Ditch

When a tire gave out, this big bus went into the ditch, turned on its side and burst into flames near Breslau, Ont. William Payne, the driver, was pinned to his seat, but managed to escape when fire started in rear of the vehicle, which was totally destroyed. No passengers were aboard when accident occurred.

Government Seeks Pembroke-Cook Site To Build Home for Aged War Veterans

Establishment of a home in Victoria for aged veterans of World War I, which has long been sought by ex-servicemen and Canadian Legion membership here, was a step closer to realization today.

C. F. Dawson, district resident architect, Federal Department of Public Works, in a letter received by M. F. Hunter, city clerk, stated there was a possibility that the Dominion government would erect a home for veterans in the corner of Cook and Pembroke Streets which I think would be suitable for such a home.

Ald. R. A. C. Dewar, chairman of the lands committee, which studied the letter, said the request would go before the city council meeting Monday, with no recommendation from council.

"I have seen the sketch of the proposed building which is a nice-looking one. I do not know how many persons could be accommodated but I do not think it would be less than 50," Ald. Dewar said.

Public Ownership For British Atom

LONDON (CP) — A highly-placed government source said today that Britain will keep all its atomic energy development under public control, completely eliminating private enterprise from that field.

A bill to bring atomic work under public ownership will be published soon, "probably next week," this source said.

The Press Association said the bill will also announce the setting up by the government of a series of research stations that will investigate the peacetime potentialities of atomic energy and keep Britain abreast of any other country in this important respect. Already there is one station at Didcot, Berkshire, near Oxford.

2 Nazis Appeal At Edmonton

EDMONTON (CP) — Two German prisoners of war, Sgt. Werner Schwalb, 30, and Pte. Adolf Kratz, 24, convicted and sentenced to be hanged for the murder of a fellow prisoner, will have their appeals heard in Edmonton starting May 20, it was announced today.

The two men were tried and convicted at Medicine Hat for the slaying of August Plaszek.

Watchmen Charged

MILAN (AP) — Milan police said today that two Milanese cemetery watchmen will be charged with neglect of duty as a result of the theft, Monday night, of the body of Benito Mussolini from its unmarked pauper's grave.

The officers said neither watchman was involved in the theft, but that both were on duty at the time the theft was committed.

Hint At Ottawa Separate Deals With Provinces

Overseas Veteran, Bride, 2 Children Die In House Fire

SAULT STE. MARIE, Ont. (CP) — A family of four died early today in a fire which destroyed a two-room, one-story home just outside the city limits here.

The dead: Alfred McDonald, 38, who returned from England last August after serving overseas 5½ years; his 22-year-old wife, Dorothy, a British war bride; their four-year-old son, Peter, and a daughter, Patsy, aged three.

Firemen said the origin of the blaze, which started at the back of the house, was undetermined. The family had rented the building since last November. Prior to that time, they had made their home with Mr. McDonald's mother.

Mrs. Ruth Goodchild, a close friend of the war bride, said she last saw Mrs. McDonald about midnight, standing near the window where her body was found. The window faced the Goodchild home, which is south of the McDonald home.

HEARD NAME CALLED

"I saw her standing there a moment, then she reached up and turned out the light," said Mrs. Goodchild. "I thought everything was all right. But some time later in the morning I thought I heard someone scream 'Ruth.' It may be that she reached the window, which I understand was knocked out, and called to me."

Mr. McDonald served with the 19th Battery, 3rd Field Regiment, through the Sicilian and Italian campaigns and later took part in fighting in Western Europe. His wife was the former Dorothy Wilkinson of North Bromley, England.

The building had only one door, at the front, facing the street. The family slept at the rear.

Police said members of the McDonald family apparently were overcome by heat and smoke which hampered their efforts to reach a door or window.

Communists, Others In China Divided On Date For Assembly

NANKING (AP) — Kuomintang (National Party) delegates demanded today that the Chinese Constitutional Assembly meet on schedule next Friday and telegraphed other delegates to come to Nanking immediately.

The Communists and the Democratic League want the Manchurian problem solved unconditionally before they agree to participate in the Assembly. In Chungking President Chiang Kai-shek agreed early this week to an indefinite postponement while he and Gen. Chou En-lai, No. 2 Communist leader, strive for political peace.

One hundred and thirty Kuomintang delegates telegraphed Chungking that the Assembly should meet on schedule, although the Communists and Democratic League delay naming their representatives.

Their action in requesting other delegates to come to Nanking at once defies the government, which had advised delegates to remain at home until a new assembly date had been agreed upon.

(A dispatch to the Peiping newspaper, Hsin Sheng Pao, from the Szepeingka front reported that fighting continues unabated in Szepeingka. It said the Communists are offering stubborn resistance from house to house. It added that 2,000 shells daily are fired at Communist positions.)

Maj.-Gen. Pao, head of the Foreign Affairs Department of the Supreme (National) Army headquarters, officially confirmed the evacuation of Harbin Thursday, as scheduled, by the Russians. He said Chinese Communists immediately took over, but he had no details.

OTTAWA (CP) — Possibility the federal government may attempt to reach taxation agreements with some of the provinces if it cannot do so with them all was advanced in unofficial circles today while Dominion and provincial authorities prepared for Monday's open discussions on financial relations.

Speculation on such a possibility arose after a provincial Premier had indicated Friday that current discussions of the co-ordinating committee of the Dominion-Provincial Conference might end with some provinces being ready to accept federal proposals while others refused them.

It could not be learned whether federal authorities have considered the possibility, which might entail a redraft of the proposals made when the conference first met last August.

When the co-ordinating committee adjourned for the week-end, Prime Minister King said the discussions, which were resumed Thursday, had been devoted to a clarification of the federal and provincial positions. He declined to say whether he felt the conference was any closer to agreement.

From the meagre information leaking out of the in-camera sittings, it was gathered that Ontario and Quebec were offering the strongest opposition to the federal proposals which called for provincial evacuation of the income, corporation and inheritance tax fields.

Ontario and Quebec have stated they are opposed to giving

B.C. Doubles Liquor Quota, Extends Beer Parlor Hours

British Columbia in May will effect the greatest easing of retail liquor restrictions since rationing was started in 1942 by doubling the amount of spirits which may be purchased and returning beer parlor hours of operation to the prewar schedule.

Changes announced today by W. F. Kennedy, chairman of the Liquor Control Board, include:

1. The monthly ration of Scotch, rye, rum or brandy in May will be double from one 26-ounce bottle to two 26-ounce bottles, with the single limitation that only one of these may be Scotch whisky.

2. Effective May 6 hours of sale for beer parlors, limited during the war to conserve beer, will be returned to the normal, from 10.30 a.m. to 11.30 p.m., with one hour closing at suppertime. The supper hour is from 6 to 7 p.m., except in Vancouver, where it is from 6.30 to 7.30.

3. Beer parlors will be able to sell all the bottled beer they wish to customers who wish to take it out of the beer parlor to drink.

4. The rule of one glass of beer at a time remains for the present, Mr. Kennedy saying: "We're trying this out for another month and then it may be lifted."

5. Veterans' clubs will be permitted to operate the same hours as beer parlors. Private clubs will also operate the same hours as beer parlors.

6. Gin continues ration free.

7. The ration of bottled malt beverages at liquor stores, which may be taken in lieu of spirits, remains unchanged at eight dozen pints per permit holder.

8. The bonus of one dozen ale pints with each monthly purchase will continue.

9. The wine ration of two quarts imported and one gallon domestic, to be taken in lieu of spirits or malt beverages, continues.

NEW STORES IN VANCOUVER

While no increase in the number of liquor stores is planned for Vancouver Island, Mr. Kennedy said his staff now was making a survey to determine where new stores should be opened in districts of Vancouver.

At least three, and possibly four, new stores will be opened in Vancouver to give better service to the public and relieve congestion in the downtown section, he said.

"I am not prepared to say yet just where these stores will be, but they will be in business districts away from the centre of the city," said Mr. Kennedy.

Vancouver Nearing Shortage of Meat

VANCOUVER (CP) — Beef supplies are still in apparent plenty at markets here today, but packers and retailers predict a shortage by the middle of next week.

Consumers are buying a little, but very little more than their normal requirements. No break seems near in the two-week-long stalemate between cattlemen and packers over the price of beef.

Some packers' coolers are almost empty of fresh beef. Others have exhausted frozen beef stocks and now have nothing to supply retailers.

Substitute meats — cow beef, poultry and so on — are in good supply.

Ambulance Driver Bitten In Struggle

VANCOUVER (CP) — Five revolver shots and four constabulary were required to subdue a man who fled from a stolen auto early today. Gordon Wagner, ambulance driver, who aided the police, was badly bitten in the arm, during the struggle. The man charged was Horace J. Morton, 32. His two companions escaped but police picked up one of them — a 17-year-old boy — later.

FAMOUS PIANIST ON SUNDAY PROGRAM

Richmanoff's Concerto No. 2 in D Minor, for piano and orchestra, will be a featured number on Kent's regular two-hour Sunday Evening broadcast from 8-10 p.m., April 28, over CJVI. It will be played by the London Philharmonic Orchestra with Benno Moiseiwitsch as soloist.

Other program items will be La Belle Helene Overture, played by the Boston Pops Orchestra, and Beethoven (Choral) Symphony No. 9 in D Minor conducted by Leopold Stokowski.

(These recordings by RCA Victor are obtainable in Victoria at Kent's Ltd.)

New Hats, Badges For Province Nurses

Public health nurses in the employ of the Provincial Board of Health will shortly wear new hats, displaying a brass badge.

The hat, a modified Glangarry, in navy blue felt, has already been ordered. While attending the Institute for Public Health Workers, public health nurses saw the new badge.

The badge, in brass, depicts the medical symbol "Caduceus," with the wings of Mercury, staff and serpents around the staff. All this is superimposed on a provincial government crest, with the words "B.C. Public Health Service."

The same design will be used in lapel buttons for other health workers and sanitarians.

All publications of the Provincial Board of Health will in future also use the same crest on their covers.

City Real Estate Prices Down—From Boom-Day Prices of 1912

"Uplands—Lots on sale on and after May 1. Prices from $3,000 to $50,000 a lot," says the advertisement.

The advertisement, however, was not printed recently. It was printed 34 years ago today in the Times, and goes to show that high as real estate prices may be now in comparison with prewar levels, Victorians have seen worse.

It was printed in a newspaper which featured on its front page accounts of the loss of the liner Titanic. A few months later, at the height of the 1912 real estate boom, with the front page warning, "War Rumors Rife in Europe," a 100 by 360 foot lot on Douglas Street, near the brick yards, was offered for sale at $40,000.

A lot on Superior Street, near Oswego Street, 80 by 120 feet, was offered at $13,000. A lot on Cook Street, near Fairfield Avenue, sold for $10,000.

A year later—33 years ago today—in a newspaper which had among its headlines: "Ottawa Announces Esquimaux Drydock to be constructed," and "Try Suffragette"—the story of the "court-martial" in New York of Mrs. Mary Ford for alleged treason to the suffragettes' cause—advertisements in the Times offered a 50 by 150 foot lot on the Gorge waterfront for $1,500; Cloverdale lots ("in the finest residential subdivision in the city, bar none") for $500 to $1,400; a 50 by 107 foot lot on Quamichan and Bank Streets for $2,500, and 50-foot lots on Amphion Street for $1,500.

FAIRLY WELL MATCHED

Prices of houses were in contrast to prices for lots, and were fairly well matched with present prices. An eight-room house in Oak Bay, with hardwood floors, was offered for $10,000; a new six-room house on Linden Avenue for $5,750; a seven-room house on Vancouver Street for $5,750, and a four-room house on Cowichan Avenue for $2,750. Most houses were sold at prices approximating $1,000 a room or less.

Money would buy more, too, in 1912 and 1913.

Colorful Tulip Display At Spring Show

Among the non-competitive displays entered at the Victoria Horticultural Society's spring flower show was this table of tulips from Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Harper. Both latest and established varieties were included in the large number of blooms.

At 16 cents a pound. A solid oak rocking chair, new, cost $3.60, and a three-piece parlor suite $32.40. A return trip to England, first class, via Montreal, was $288. Coal was $6 a ton.

A new 18-foot motor launch cost $350. Or for the same price one could buy the new Douglas motorcycle, which could be ridden by either gentlemen or ladies, and which was "Neither a Speed Monster nor a Toy."

Large Tulip Entry In Spring Show At Crystal Garden

Every variety of spring flower found in Victoria gardens is on display at the Victoria Horticultural Society's spring show which opened Friday at the Crystal Garden lower ballroom. The exhibition concludes today.

Special display by commercial growers banked the walls of the room, while tables for competitors filled the centre. A pink camellia bush towered over the exhibition by Layritz Nursery, which contained a wide variety of flowering shrubs and plants. Other non-competitive entries were from Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Harper, Arrowsmiths, W. Goddard and Vancouver Island Rock and Alpine Garden Society.

Winner of the highest aggregate prize was Mrs. A. McKay. Her large number of entries included a graceful bowl of pink tulips with golden markings, a basket of daffodils and narcissi, the colors of both ranging from yellow to white, and a decorated table centre with tulips and hyacinths.

Most colorful of all was the tulip section with its purple, bronze and burgundy blooms, in addition to the usual shades. Drawing especial admiration were the parrot-type tulips, the display including large pink blooms marked with bright green and yellow blooms tinted with pink, red and green markings.

Included in the general section were anemones, auricula, Iceland poppies, iris, pansies, primroses, violas, wallflowers and scillas.

Mrs. H. J. Pinhorn was runner-up for the aggregate prize, and L. W. Taverner was in third place. Other winners were: H. Self, Mrs. N. W. Willoughby, A. Perrey, Mrs. A. L. Townsend, E. A. Powell and E. M. Whyte.

Foresters to See Helicopter Tests

Tests by U.S. army air forces of helicopters for forest fire fighting at Pasadena, Calif., will be watched by two representatives of the B.C. forest service, E. W. Bassett, chief of the service's protection operations, and I. C. MacQueen.

The tests by the U.S.A.A.F. are being conducted for the U.S. forest service to determine if helicopters can be used for fire fighting.

Convicted of Theft

MOOSE JAW (CP) — Van Averill, grain buyer of Darmody, 40 miles northwest of here, was sentenced in R.C.M.P. court here Friday to serve two years and three months in penitentiary on each of one charge of theft of $18,524, and 36 charges of forging train tickets. The sentences will run concurrently.

Evidence showed the accused had been gambling and lost a large amount of his employers' money.

Evidence was given to the effect that when the regular check of cash against grain was made by the grain company which employed him, it was discovered that 12,923 bushels of grain that Averill alleged he had purchased, was not in either of the two elevators at Darmody.

St. George's Observance

Traditional celebration of St. George's Day and anniversary of the birth and death of William Shakespeare was observed informally at the home of Harry Langley, Foul Bay Road, when members of Victoria branch of the Royal Society of St. George were guests. Reginald Hayward was chairman and toastmaster. Toast of the evening, "The Day We Celebrate," was responded to by K. C. Symons, M.A.

A resolution to be forwarded to R. W. Mayhew, M.P., endorsed action of St. George's Societies throughout Canada that the national emblem retain the Union Jack. Speakers favored adoption of the Canadian flag carried by Canadians in battle.

Officers were elected as follows: Honorary president, Reginald Hayward; president, K. C. Symons; first vice-president, Harry Langley; second vice-president, F. H. Parsons; secretary, Mrs. Bertha Parsons; treasurer, George W. Deaville; social convener, Mrs. L. M. Lovatt; executive committee, Mr. Parnell, Mesdames H. Langley, Lemon, Milton and B. G. Ruddock; standard bearer, Mrs. B. G. Ruddock.

Leigh Forbes Stevenson, former air officer commanding Western Air Command with headquarters in Victoria and Vancouver, and commanding officer of the R.C.A.F. in Britain early in the war, was nominated Friday night as Coalition candidate to contest the provincial election in Vancouver - Point Grey.

The by-election, for which no date has yet been set, was necessitated by the death of Attorney-General R. L. Maitland, provincial Progressive Conservative party leader. No successor to Mr. Maitland as B.C. Conservative chief has yet been named, although Finance Minister Herbert Anscomb has been named Conservative House leader, and Gordon S. Wismer, K.C., a Liberal, has been named Attorney-General.

In a closely-contested nominating convention, Mr. Stevenson nosed out George F. Cameron, president of the constituency Progressive Conservative Association.

The riding is considered an easy contest for a Coalition candidate.

Mr. Stevenson's military career dates back to 1910, when he enlisted with the Northumberland Regiment. He went overseas in 1915 with the 32nd Battalion (infantry). In 1918 he was seconded from the army to the Royal Flying Corps.

Between wars he was well known on the Pacific coast as an officer of the R.C.A.F.

Following his retirement from the air force he was appointed in January, 1945, as housing administrator for Victoria and Vancouver.

Lake Sailors Ask 56-Hour Week

TORONTO (CP)—Proposals to establish a 56-hour work-week and a three-watch system on Great Lakes ships were advanced today by the Dominion Marine Association. The new work schedule would become effective at the opening of navigation in 1947.

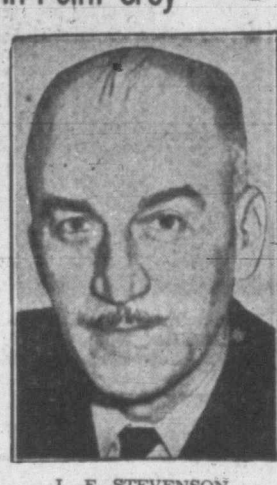

George E. Donovan, association secretary, said the ship owners today sent the proposals to the Canadian Seamen's Union for consideration by union executives at a closed meeting Monday. The union, which asked for an eight-hour day, now, is taking a strike vote of its members.

"The proposal calls for a rearrangement of duties under terms which will allow promotion for skilled men," Donovan said.

their own purposes to "intrude into our organization."

Referring to nationalization, he said the government is not pursuing "a mere theory." "Every one of our nationalization measures is essential for the recovery and reorganization of the life of this country," he declared.

Stevenson Named Coalition Candidate In Point Grey

Lake Sailors Ask 56-Hour Week

TORONTO (CP)—Proposals to establish a 56-hour work-week and a three-watch system on Great Lakes ships were advanced today by the Dominion Marine Association. The new work schedule would become effective at the opening of navigation in 1947.

George E. Donovan, association secretary, said the ship owners today sent the proposals to the Canadian Seamen's Union for consideration by union executives at a closed meeting Monday. The union, which asked for an eight-hour day, now, is taking a strike vote of its members.

"The proposal calls for a rearrangement of duties under terms which will allow promotion for skilled men," Donovan said.

their own purposes to "intrude into our organization."

Referring to nationalization, he said the government is not pursuing "a mere theory." "Every one of our nationalization measures is essential for the recovery and reorganization of the life of this country," he declared.

'Black Mike' McEwen Retires From R.C.A.F.
MONTREAL (CP)—Air Vice-Marshal C. M. (Black Mike) McEwen, C.B., M.C., D.F.C., of Montreal, one of Canada's best-known figures in two air wars, and highly active in the peacetime R.C.A.F. during the interim, said farewell to air force blue Friday, after 30 years in the service, as his retirement went into effect.

He was commander of the famous R.C.A.F. No. 6 Bomber Group in England for 2½ years—a period during which the group set many records in sustained bombing into submission of Germany.

"Black Mike," as he was affectionately called, was known intimately by thousands of his personnel, through the frequency of his visits to bombing stations during operations, and for his keen interest in the welfare of the boys who were servicing his heavy bombers, and of the aircrew boys who were flying in them.

He is undecided about his future plans.

Every Wife should answer these questions:

Without you, could your husband provide the RIGHT care for the children? Probably not without extra money to make some suitable arrangement . . . which is good reason why you, as his partner in the business of running the home, should carry insurance on your own life. In any partnership, protection against sudden emergencies is important . . .

Does it matter WHICH life insurance company you choose? It does matter! Life insurance companies are much alike as to policies and rates, but actual long-term results vary widely. We invite you to compare The Mutual Life of Canada's record with that of any other company. Evidence of the satisfaction of Mutual Life policyholders is furnished by the fact that whole families and succeeding generations have entrusted their life insurance programs exclusively to The Mutual Life, and each year approximately 35% of its new business comes from policyholders. Ask your Mutual Life representative to explain the special features of this Company.

Little Evidence Black Markets Gaining in Canada, Says Board

OTTAWA (CP) — The Prices Board declares there is little concrete evidence, if any, to prove the current "great outcry" that black markets are flourishing in Canada.

In a 1,500-word statement issued Friday night reviewing black market operations, the board said Canada was as free from the undercurrent transactions as any place in the world and added that practically every shortage which had developed had resulted from panic buying which, in turn, had been touched off by reports of black markets.

The statement said the largest illegal organization had been in the manufacture of counterfeit gasoline and food coupons and the breaking of the counterfeit coupon rackets had been the biggest undertaking of the board's endorsement branch, which worked closely with the R.C.M.P. forces.

The committee recommended non-concurrence on the grounds that no applications (for readmission) have been received, and that there is already constitutional provision for reinstatement on application being made, the statement read.

"Some fear was expressed," the statement added, "that the present constitution of the C.C.F. might raise barriers against the return of some who had ceased to be members at the time of the expulsion of H. W. Herridge."

Members of the resolutions committee found that such a view was ill-founded and voted against readmission of Herridge.

been taken from manufacturers and retailers who "continually refused" to abide by regulations.

In all, 23,416 persons were convicted up to Feb. 28 this year for various offences against regulations concerning prices, rentals, rationing, gasoline, tires and other services and commodities.

The board had 750 persons, aside from clerical staffs, engaged in tracking down black markets, but they were hampered by the "secrecy" which surrounded black market transactions. Many who knew of such operations failed to report them because they feared publicity or persecution.

MANY ACT IGNORED

The statement said anyone willing to pay one cent more than ceiling prices or purchase rationed goods without surrendering coupons was guilty of contributing to black market activity, but stressed it was "very difficult" to make people realize it was a criminal offence to pay more than ceiling prices.

In meat rationing, the fundamental control was in the licensing of those permitted to slaughter cattle. When they failed to stamp meat and slaughtered over quotas allowed, "upgrading" took place and when the meat found its way to the retail store it was "almost impossible" to trace its sources unless the retailer would disclose the name of his suppliers. Invoices usually were in order.

Master of Yukon Negligent; License Suspended 8 Months

SEATTLE (AP) — A U.S. Coast Guard hearing board ruled Friday that charges of negligence had been proved against Capt. Chris E. Trondsen and suspended for eight months the license of the master of the liner Yukon, which went aground Feb. 4 in Johnstone Bay, Alaska, with a loss of 11 lives.

Because the captain had been inactive for three months during the investigation of the wreck, and because Coast Guard prosecutors suggested leniency, six of the eight months were made probationary. Suspension or revocation of the license was the limit of the board's authority in the case.

It was brought out at the hearing that Trondsen had been suspended for 10 days in 1942 in connection with the grounding of the Ss. Cordova.

The captain told the board he was thrown off his course by an unexpected westerly tidal set which ran about two knots and about which there was no warning on the charts or in navigational information.

The hearing officer, Lt. Cmdr. F. H. Nelson, held that Trondsen had not conducted himself as a prudent, careful navigator should, that he had failed to use a sounding line and taffrail log, and had proceeded from Seward, Alaska, by dead reckoning through heavy weather, unable to get a landfall to determine his position.

Stanley B. Long, Trondsen's attorney, complained that modern aids to navigation, such as fathometers and radar sets were denied commercial ships, although they are, he said, standing idle in naval warehouses.

A fleet of rescue ships fought an icy gale to rescue most of the Yukon's nearly 500 passengers when the ship struck rocks and broke in two.

Boy Scouts Plan Long Canoe Trip

CALGARY (CP) — Eighteen Calgary scouts with a group of scouts from Montreal, Spokane, Seattle and possibly other Canadian and U.S. cities, will undertake something new in the way of adventure this summer when they follow the routes of the early explorers and travel by canoe from Revelstoke to Kelowna.

The party will be under the direction of Capt. Richard N. Talbot, scoutmaster of a local troop, who made the trip last summer.

The boys will travel to Revelstoke by train, and take to the Columbia River from there. They will go down the river, through the Arrow Lakes to Castlegar, by train west to Penticton, and by water up the Kootenay Lakes to Kelowna. They will leave Revelstoke about July 15 and plan to be in Kelowna the first week in August in time for the annual regatta.

260 Surplus Trucks For B.C. Farmers

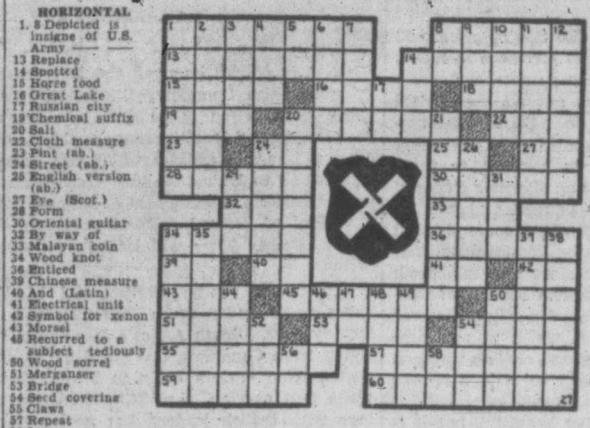

VANCOUVER (CP) — British Columbia farmers will shortly have an opportunity to obtain 260 war surplus trucks and other equipment for farming operations, C. A. Hayden, Vernon, secretary of the B.C. Federation of Agriculture, said Friday.

A total of 2,000 trucks is being released by the War Assets Corporation across Canada. Size and price of the vehicles, are not known.

2 Fined $100 Each

TORONTO (CP) — Frank Miller was fined $100 and costs Friday for selling a blade roast above the ceiling price, and G. Smith was fined $100 and costs for selling a pickled beef tongue above the ceiling. Prices Board investigators said Miller sold a blade roast at 36 cents a pound when the ceiling was 30 cents, and Smith charged 35 cents a pound for tongue worth 29 cents a pound.

Doubt French Millionaire Fell Or Jumped From Vancouver Ship

VANCOUVER (CP) — Detectives and Royal Canadian Mounted Police continued investigations today in attempts to piece together a vague series of episodes in solution of the mysterious disappearance in mid-Pacific of French millionaire Henri Bar from aboard the Vancouver-bound Ss. Samwater.

The problem of what happened to the wealthy director of the Banque Franco-Chinoise rested on three possibilities:

1. Henri Bar fell overboard during rough weather.
2. He jumped. (This is not considered likely since he was described by passengers as contented and planning his 60th birthday party aboard ship for the day after he vanished.)
3. He was robbed, slain and thrown overboard.

In a statement to police, the first mate expressed the opinion it was unlikely a man could fall overboard under the conditions existing the night of Bar's disappearance.

Friday the ship was searched from stem to stern for the body of Bar and four valuable white jade necklaces which may have been on the person of the banker.

A member of the crew had told police Henri Bar said he was wearing the jade necklaces around his neck.

The search proved fruitless. While investigations continue, 23 teakwood cases loaded with jewels and pieces of art valued at about $250,000, property of the missing man, lie in bond, unopened.

The French Consul in Vancouver, Charles Claudon, said he had placed the consulate seal on each chest and even police are not permitted to open the boxes.

A list of the contents includes 10 agate cups which have carried a curse since they were stolen from the Peking palace in China 40 years ago.

Salvation Army Plans to Revive Its Work in Japan

SUNBURY-ON-THAMES, Ont. (CP) — The revival of the Salvation Army in Japan and strengthening of the movement in Germany will be discussed at a conference of army commissioners to follow the high council meeting now in progress here.

Commissioner Benjamin Orames, 70-year-old veteran of the religious group, told the Canadian Press between sessions devoted to the election of a successor to the retiring Gen. George Carpenter that the commissioners have to decide how Japanese, loyal to Salvationism despite its suppression by the wartime nationalistic government, can be reissued uniforms, and given financial aid in re-establishing social services and an evangelism mission.

Just back from a visit to Germany, where he took with Canadian troops in Oldenburg and surveyed the poverty-ridden civilian scene, the tall, silver-haired commissioner declared the Salvation Army had undergone the severest test of its internationalism during the war.

"To wear the uniform of a movement organized on military lines which originated in an enemy country did not make for popularity," Commissioner Orames said. "But our German comrades never strayed from our cardinal principles, although they gave allegiance to the country of their birth."

On guard duty outside the council chamber is Maj. James Edwards, formerly of Winnipeg, who, since joining the Army in Canada, has spent 33 years in India and Burma with auxiliary and missionary services. During the war he was forced to hitchhike 200 miles while pursued by the Japanese.

$556 Fine For Selling Car Over Ceiling

WELLAND, Ont. (CP) — Frank J. Arnold was fined $556.20 in magistrate's court Friday on two charges of contravening Prices Board regulations. He was convicted of selling a 1941 sedan, ceiling price of which was $631.80, for $950.00, and also of failing to file a statement of sale with the board within four days.

HE builds a house

SHE makes a home

When a man builds or buys he sees essentially the things that make for durability and sound investment. He concerns himself with specifications and practical facts. It is the woman who sees the livable features that make the house a pleasant home. It is she who thinks of room arrangements that will best display her favorite piece of furniture. Her interests centre 'round the things that make for a happy friendly place to spend the years. What more natural than for her to turn for guidance to an institution which caters to these essentially feminine interests.

MURDER IN WASHINGTON

WHEN THE MEMBERS OF THE HOUSE of Representatives return to Washington next Tuesday after the Easter recess they will discover that what is being called the "murder of the O.P.A." has produced a storm of protest from almost every state in the Union. Even one of this important price-controlling agency's bitterest critics, Republican Representative Fred Hartley of New Jersey, is now urging moderation lest the whole purpose of the battle against inflation be utterly lost. And perhaps as others have had an opportunity to discuss with their constituents the potentialities of the recent crippling amendments to the original measure, they will return to Capitol Hill in a more chastened mood. But the fact remains that the "murdering" vote revealed antipathy to O.P.A. to the tune of 355 to 42—with party lines cutting no figure whatsoever. What the Senate will do with the matter is highly problematical. President Truman says he expects the upper chamber to act more sensibly.

How the Congress finally disposes of a collection of amendments which must seriously undermine the control system in the United States is of immediate concern to Canada. Not that pressure groups and special pleaders in this country have, as yet, dented the armor of Mr. Donald Gordon, chairman of the Dominion's Wartime Prices and Trade Board. But since the economies of both nations interlock so closely in numerous important particulars, the influence of a vicious inflationary spiral south of the 49th parallel is bound to be felt on this side. To be sure, certain adjustments in the general wage and price structure in Canada have had to be made; others, within reason, doubtless will be found both necessary and desirable. And it is equally true that, in response to legitimate criticism of the O.P.A. in the United States, the newly-appointed price administrator, Mr. Paul Porter, has raised ceiling prices—particularly when required to stimulate production. His decontrol plans, however, are replete with the assurance that they will operate only so long as they do not conflict with policies designed to protect the consuming public against inflationary price advances, and so long as they do not encourage the diversion of materials and manpower to relatively unessential lines of production. He has already told the Senate Banking and Currency Committee, in his insistence on the extension of the O.P.A.'s activities without the crippling amendments, what will happen to the national economy if the action of the House should be emulated by the upper chamber.

In effect, Mr. Porter, and Canadians should note his remarks well, does not undertake increased production—the best antidote to inflation—with adequate profits, or decry free markets. But this is another way of saying that control over prices must be retained until goods are being produced in such abundance as to make it safe to return to pricing under a free system of bids and offers. Therefore, the job of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board in Canada, as it is of the Office of Price Administration in the United States, is two-fold: (1) To protect consumers against gouging, and (2) to remove obstacles to increased production. Only through a policy of gradualness can this twin objective be reached. Unintelligent short cuts at the insistence of the apostles of greed will lead only to economic disaster—with the "little people" between the Scylla of soaring prices and the Charybdis of diminishing money values. Canadians must, in their own interests, back Mr. Gordon.

HOUSING SHORTAGE FACES U.N.

THOSE SOLEMN AND HISTORY-making sessions of the United Nations seem destined to continue in the same incongruous settings that have formed the backdrop for its deliberations ever since the organization chose the United States for its permanent home. First it was the magnificent Opera House at San Francisco, then a girl's gymnasium at Hunter College in the Bronx, and now it proposes to divide its activities between a gyroscope factory and a skating rink on a deserted fairground.

In other words, the United Nations have run into the same housing shortage that afflicts millions of families and individuals on this and other continents that want to make a change of residence or business address at this disturbed time in the world's history. But the final decision on a temporary home—which may have to do for two to five years—seems an unhappy one. To get over the least important objection first, there is a symbolism attached to the chosen buildings which provokes a rather ominous snicker unbecoming to the seriousness of the U.N.'s task. The dizzy whirl of the gyroscope and the slips, slides, and spills that go with skating are bound to crop up and bedevil men's minds with unfortunate smiles whenever the deliberations show signs of getting out of hand. But there are practical considerations, too. The two buildings are nine miles apart. The Sperry plant, where the Council and Secretariat will hold forth, is 22 miles from midtown Manhattan, where the delegates make their headquarters. The old City of New York building, left over from the World's Fair, is seven miles distant from midtown.

Transportation to the Sperry plant will involve a lot of changes for those members of the organization who do not have cars—and it is certain that not all the clerical staff is so blessed. In addition, the surroundings of the two sites seem somewhat less than inspiring. In contrast to these disadvantages, there is an alternate choice of a temporary or even permanent home for the U.N. which at least offers some physical inducements. That is the Pentagon Building in Washington. Ever since this mammoth structure was built, people have been wondering what would happen after the war to the white elephant which at one time housed 30,000 military and civilian workers. A logical solution might be to turn it over to the United Nations.

The Pentagon is not beautiful, but it is commodious. There are shops and restaurants and some rather fancy office-suites already installed, as well as hundreds of unglamorous but efficient workrooms. It could probably be remodeled to suit U.N. needs as easily as the skating rink or the gyroscope factory. No doubt it would even be possible to convert some of the space into dwelling units, if the housing shortage still warranted such a move. The building is close to downtown Washington. There is quick bus service and ample parking space. Probably the Pentagon has been considered and rejected. It may be felt that it is too close to the seat and influence of the American government—though with New York immediately accessible by telephone and only an hour away by air, that would seem a rather secondary consideration. At any rate, the U.N. officials seem to have made their choice. But they may have passed up a good bet.

NOT A MATTER OF HONOR

ACCORDING TO A BELIEF TOO widely held, but not shared by police reporters, there is a high code of honor among thieves. The fiction may arise from the artistic legends of Robin Hood and other alleged public benefactors who operated outside of the law. As a matter of fact, criminals—possibly believing their own ends are better served by silence—will occasionally appear to protect an accomplice. More often than not, however, they will show little concern for their partners in crime if it serves their purpose to incriminate them. The fable about honor among thieves is an old concept which does not improve with age.

Nor will today's statement from Nuerenberg that counsel for the defendants at the trial before the International Military Tribunal have emphatically denied a split among themselves add any weight to the belief. When it has served their purposes, the different defendants have, to use the vernacular, "rat" against one another. If today's announcement means that the thugs on trial have decided to hang together, the decent public will hope the most liberal interpretation will be placed on that phrase.

BRITISH TRADE WITH CANADA

BASED ON PRESENT ESTIMATES OF British economists, more than $2,000,000,000 will be sent in Canada during the next two years. This would more than exhaust the $1,250,000,000 loan just extended Britain, plus all other forms of income derived from British investments in Canada and imports from the United Kingdom.

British earnings in Canada through exports and investments are not expected to exceed more than $400,000,000 in the next two years. These earnings would be derived in the following ways: U.K. exports to Canada $200,000,000; interest and dividends $50,000,000; freight and transport $50,000,000; all other sources $50,000,000. Annual purchases in Canada are expected to be $570,000,000 to $600,000,000 for food; $200,000,000 for raw materials; $300,000,000 for manufactured goods; $150,000,000 to $170,000,000 for freight and transport, a total of $950,000,000 to $1,000,000,000.

Canadian experts doubt that British purchases will total $1,000,000,000 in 1946. It is thought that the estimate of food purchases is too high, while the estimate on freight and transport might vary considerably. There is the possibility that British income through Canada may exceed the $400,000,000 anticipated. Even then, the gap between earnings and purchases may have to be paid for with American dollars.

SEA SOUNDS AT NIGHT

MORE COMPELLING THAN THE haunting wistfulness of a distant train whistle to the inland dweller is the strange fascination of sea sounds on a calm night to those who live by the shore. There is the eerie note of the crane, gliding slowly out of the dark sky, a moving shadow vaguely seen against the stars, as it slips to its roost among the kelp beds. It is the cry of another world, the harsh, forlorn croak of something lost, something that can never find itself, no matter how familiar the objects of the physical world about it. Yet those who live at the edge of the water grow to listen for it nightly, as they might listen for a curfew.

The New Concept

By B. T. RICHARDSON
LONDON.

CONVERSATIONS among the leaders of the British Commonwealth of Nations, which have begun in London, will range over Pacific and Mediterranean problems of defence issues, mandates which are being transferred to United Nations trusteeships, peace treaties and settlement of Europe, and a variety of general political problems of world affairs. They will last three weeks or more.

Australia's Joseph Chifley and H. V. Evatt, and New Zealand's Walter Nash, are already here. South Africa's Jan Smuts is flying from Capetown, and Mr. King is expected to arrive early in May. Their visits will overlap, permitting joint meetings with British leaders, but no Imperial Conference is planned. No Imperial Conference has been held for almost 10 years and it has gone out of fashion in the British Commonwealth. This fact is one of the most important yardsticks of change in Commonwealth relations.

IT ARISES FROM the fact that no major issues of constitutional relations exist among Commonwealth nations such as dominated the Imperial Conferences after World War 1. Old phrases of imperialism no longer have a meaning outside popular journalism. The ancient trappings of empire have fallen away, never to return in Britain. A government rules which is liquidating not the British Empire, but the old forms of British imperialism. The Commonwealth of Nations is projecting into postwar relations a technique of continuous and close knit consultation which flowered during the recent war and served them so well.

Commonwealth relations rest on two devices—constant circulation of documents among governments and frequent personal contacts. There is no formal urgency for London meetings, no formal proposals or demands have been made public and none exist. The purpose is simply to understand the policies of each other in matters where interests touch or overlap.

THE NEW CHARACTER of the British Commonwealth is that of a group of middle and small powers of which the United Kingdom is the leading member which holds rank in world affairs of great power, chiefly because of the Commonwealth.

The last occasion such an issue arose was in 1944 when Prime Minister John Curtin of Australia proposed an Imperial secretariat which, after examination, was rejected and which Australian policy has completely abandoned since.

Virtually all scope for common policies in defence and foreign affairs is already occupied by membership in the United Nations of each Commonwealth nation, yet a strong positive function is served in Commonwealth relations. It is found that any influence which the Commonwealth nations exert upon the policies of other members of the Dominions influences British policy; while possessing interests of their own—as shown in Canadian-American relations—they have degrees of influence upon policies of other powers. At a time when World War II has brought a new pattern of world politics, when world affairs present to every nation new problems in relation to other nations, the guiding principle of the British Commonwealth system rests upon the willingness of British policy to take account of the interests of Canada, Australia, New Zealand and South Africa.

THESE STATES reciprocate, frankly welcoming British influence upon their policies to a greater degree than most sovereign states would admit. This is the major factor which preserves British influence. It is for the United Kingdom the chief factor in maintaining its position as a great power in world affairs. This is the new guiding principle which has already begun to replace the principle of "common allegiance" which was recognized in the Balfour report of 1926 and Statute of Westminster in 1931 as the basis of Commonwealth unity.

During the next three weeks or more, Commonwealth leaders will discuss defence and foreign policy. The primary function of such meetings is already clearly established—to extend the limits of understanding of the common problems. Each Commonwealth nation brings its own distinctive viewpoint. Australia stands for a new concept in Commonwealth relations, namely, that in the western Pacific, Australia should represent the British power and serve as chief custodian of British interests. New Zealand, like Australia, is interested in a new pattern of Pacific security, which is emerging in place of the old structure which collapsed in 1942. South Africa's aspiration is African expansion of its union. Canada stands in its basic tradition of promoting Anglo-American harmony.

NOTABLE ABSENTEE from London is Ireland. The Irish rejection of Dominion status demonstrates how participation is voluntary. That rejection creates a precedent as does Ireland's assertion of republican status. Each Commonwealth nation is much more in world affairs than a member of a Commonwealth. The strange thing about this new Commonwealth is not that its members differ in character and policy but that nations so varied should have discovered the secret of strength and mutual aid through persisting in mutual understanding.

Note on Inflation: New York City's government now spends more each year than the United States national government spent before the First World War.

Russian opposition to the early framing of a treaty which would restore Austrian independence is further evidence of Moscow's determination to carry out the extension of its sphere of influence in Europe according to plan. The objection was voiced by Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov at the Big Four Foreign Ministers' conference in Paris as the parley was cautiously getting underway. He said the proposal for an Austrian pact now was an unforeseen development which required thorough study. We must look deeper than that, however, for the real reason—and we shall be smart if we do look, because a great issue is involved.

IN RUSSIA'S SPHERE All other explanations notwithstanding, the real point is that Austria falls within Moscow's projected sphere of influence. In fact this little country is the last of the central European territory which Russia has indicated she intends to control in order to round out her project. Everything else has been brought snugly within the security line that runs from the great German port of Stettin on the north to the Adriatic on the south.

The Muscovites naturally would be happy to see the other Allies—U.S., Britain and France—pull their troops out of Austria. Russia then could advance her sphere of influence to the western frontier without hindrance. For precisely that reason there can be no withdrawal of troops unless all four Allies move out at the same time.

Continued occupation of Austria is placing a terrific financial strain on her, and if it is long continued she will be bled white.

SUGGESTS U.N. CONTROL

Dr. Karl Renner, Austria's president, a few days ago suggested to the party of U.S. editors and publishers visiting Vienna that the occupation of Austria be turned over to international troops under the U.N. He said Austria wanted a small force to protect her frontiers, but he thought 30,000 would be enough. Some such arrangement might suit the ideas of the western Allies. However, it will be surprising if Russia joins in anything she feels might jeopardize her plan of drawing Austria firmly within the Soviet zone of influence.

cars Easter Sunday morning. The courtesy of the drivers was also much appreciated. Quite a number of girls were enabled to attend the 7 o'clock Sunrise Service at the Lookout, Beacon Hill Park, that would never have been able to be there otherwise, and in the beauty of the morning it was not hard to relive that first Easter morning.

SPORTS CENTRE

My attention has been drawn to an extract in the Times from a letter to the Oak Bay Council wherein I am quoted as saying that "Horse racing brings an undesirable class of people to the Willows and a Sports Centre would be no better."

Several persons have telephoned me stating that I am alleging that the young people of Victoria are undesirable because they are interested in sports. This is, of course, entirely erroneous, and the item has, I fear, created an entirely wrong impression.

My point with regard to the undesirability of some of the visitors to the race track still stands, and what I intended to imply was that a Sports Centre might attract persons of similar characteristics. I certainly never intended for a moment to asperse the character of the local young people.

I still maintain, however, that a centre of this kind can wait until the urgent need for homes is satisfied.

Coach Lines to Run
City, Saanich Buses
On Daylight Time

Vancouver Island Coach Lines have announced that their local Saanich and Victoria services will operate on daylight saving time, effective Sunday, while their up-island routes will remain on standard time.

Decision was made to change to daylight, or fast time on the Saanich lines in order that Greater Victoria residents desiring to travel to the Victoria business district to their work or for business or shopping would not be inconvenienced by the change in Victoria's time. Daylight saving time routes will be: Gorge-Lake Hill, Douglas-Agnes-Ralph, Burnside, Gordon Head, Cadboro Bay, Cordova Bay, Thetis Lake, Sidney, Patricia Bay airport, Deep Cove, West Saanich, Keating-Old West Road, Salt Spring Island.

Inasmuch as all up-island schedules are closely co-ordinated with B.C. Coast Steamship schedules to and from Victoria and Nanaimo, it will be necessary to continue operation of the following island routes on standard time: Victoria-Nanaimo, Victoria-Sooke-Jordan River, Duncan-Cowichan Lake-L'Anse-au-Loup, Nanaimo-Port Alberni, Nanaimo-Courtenay-Campbell River. Local services operating out of Duncan, Nanaimo, Port Alberni, Courtenay, Comox and Campbell River will remain on standard time.

Students Return To School Monday

The busy holiday social life will be over Monday for thousands of Greater Victoria school children, who will return to their classrooms after the Easter season on the last lap of the school term.

There will be chatter in the corridors and hallways and on the school steps, as boys and girls tell of the parties, games and hikes which highlighted their 10-day Easter holiday.

Memories of basketball and football triumphs will be pushed into the background when the 9 o'clock bell rings, and teachers summon pupils for the last two months of the school term. A heavy schedule of studies in preparation for end-of-term examinations will face high school students, particularly those in the graduating year.

Elk Lake to Have
New $5,000 Church

The people of Elk Lake in co-operation with the First Baptist Church of Victoria will erect a modern $5,000 church and Sunday school building, plans and specifications for which are now being prepared by Architect C. Dexter Stockhill. The site selected is the lower part of the property owned by N. Edwards, facing the lake on the East Saanich Road. It will be a community-Baptist church, managed by a committee chosen by the First Baptist Church of Victoria and the Elk Lake residents.

Parks Photo Contest

Victoria city parks committee Friday issued rules of competition for the first photographic competition, sponsored jointly by the committee and the Victoria Camera Club, which is now open and will close Nov. 15.

The contest is open to all photographers, amateur or professional and photographs must be taken in parks within the boundaries of the city of Victoria. Prints must be a minimum size of 8x10 on white or light-toned mounts. Prints may be in any photographic process in black and white or single-toned, but no hand coloring will be accepted. All entries become the property of the Victoria city parks committee and submission of prints to the contest must carry with it the right to reproduce.

Any number of prints will be accepted but each must have a separate entry form. On the back of each mount must be the contestant's name, address, telephone number, title of print, if any, and location of scene.

Insurance Men Confer

A sales congress of the Puget Sound Agency of the Equitable Life Insurance Company of Iowa, and the British Columbia Agency of the Dominion Life Insurance Company was held at the Empress Hotel yesterday and today.

The congress opened with a banquet on Friday evening, with Red G. Cameron, provincial manager of the Dominion Life Insurance Company, presiding. Jack Smart, B.C. manager of the New York Life Insurance Company, was the guest speaker.

Hugh S. Bell, C.L.U., general agent of the Equitable Life of Iowa spoke today.

Emily Thompson Married in Blue

Emily Marie, only daughter of Alfred W. Thompson, 375 Walter Avenue, and the late Mrs. Thompson, became the bride Friday evening in Centennial United Church of John Foster Clegg, elder son of Mr. and Mrs. S. Clegg, 40 George Road West. Rev. W. R. Ashford officiated and P. H. Hughes was at the organ. Cherry and apple blossoms, together with tulips, formed the church decorations.

A dressmaker suit of waterfall blue with a matching hat trimmed with flowers en suite was chosen by the bride for her wedding ensemble. Given in marriage by her father, the bride's bouquet was composed of pink rosebuds and lily of the valley.

Miss Betty Clegg, sister of the groom, was bridesmaid, wearing a gold dressmaker suit, black hat trimmed with chartreuse flowers and a corsage bouquet of yellow rosebuds. Kenneth Greenhalgh supported the groom and ushers were Peter Brown and Philip Lawrence, cousins of the groom.

A reception was held at the home of the groom's parents, where they were assisted in receiving by Mrs. R. H. Neelds of Vancouver, aunt of the bride. C. F. Banfield proposed the toast.

Engagements

Mr. and Mrs. H. Kent, 3225 Harriet Road, wish to announce the engagement of their only daughter, Helen Mary, to Mr. Albert Frederick Dunn, eldest son of the late Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Dunn, Flint, Michigan. The wedding to take place early in May at St. Andrew's Anglican Church, Windsor, Ont.

The engagement is announced of Grace Louisa, only daughter of Mr. A. M. Sinclair of 921 Snowdrop Avenue, and the late Mrs. A. Sinclair, to Mr. Martin John Nickels, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. M. Nickels. The wedding will take place at 8.30 p.m., May 28, 1946, at St. John's Church.

Mr. and Mrs. George Marshall, Lafayette Street, Oak Bay, announce the engagement of their daughter, Augusta Hazel, to William Henry Lewis, younger son of Mrs. Lewis, Belleville Street, Victoria. The marriage will be solemnized in Oak Bay United Church, Granite Street, on Saturday, May 18, at 8 p.m.

Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Merriman, 1512 Fairfield, announce the engagement of their only daughter, Hilda, Arletta, Ellen (Joy), to F. L. Robert Thomas, elder son of Mr. and Mrs. R. Obee, 2921 Lorne Terrace. The marriage is to take place at St. Matthias' Church, May 31, at 8 p.m.

Talented Singer Returns to Victoria

Returning to Victoria early in May to visit family and friends, Miss Margaret Henry will have an outstanding musical career to present as a result of three years filled with accomplishments in eastern Canada.

Miss Henry, well known to Victorians as vocal soloist with Len Acres' orchestra, left for Vancouver four years ago, where she appeared over CJOR and later on Stag Party and Music from the Pacific over CBR.

One year later she was in Toronto under radio contract with a Mutual Network show. Several engagements with leading eastern orchestras followed and lately the talented young vocalist has been singing in King Edward Hotel in Toronto and Mt. Royal Hotel in Montreal with Norman Harris and his orchestra.

Miss Henry will visit her sister, Mrs. V. A. Downard in Duncan and her brother, Fred Henry of Cordova Bay.

Personal Notes

Mrs. Hobart Molson of Victoria is en route to Toronto as one of the B.C. representatives to the Red Cross National Meeting in May.

Princess Chikhmatoff entertained at a luncheon in her home on St. Charles Street Friday in honor of visiting members of the Garden Club of America, who have been in the city during the past two days. Covers were laid for 27.

Mrs. John Hanbury, Beach Drive, entertained a few friends Friday afternoon at the tea hour in honor of Mrs. J. Goulter, of Burden, Man., who has been the guest of Mrs. J. A. Merrick, Uplands Road, for the past few weeks, and Mrs. L. McAndrews, who is staying at the Empress Hotel.

Mr. Kirby Hercher will arrive in the city early next week to join his wife and two children, Patricia and Douglas, who have been visiting Mrs. Hercher's parents, Capt. and Mrs. J. H. Catroll, Oliver Street. Mr. and Mrs. Hercher and their family will leave later in the week for Montreal where they will make their home.

Mrs. Tom Lumsden, regent of Florence Nightingale Chapter, I.O.E., was hostess at her home on Centre Avenue Friday in honor of the committee who are arranging the dance and fashion show at the Sirocco, May 8. Guests were Mesdames T. A. Johnston, William Blair, George Lillie and L. A. Lucas.

Charming in every detail was the yellow and blue color scheme carried out at the spring opening of the Uplands Golf Club, which attracted 50 lady members, who participated in a two-ball foursome, followed by tea in the clubhouse. Mrs. A. B. Sanders was guest of honor. Prize-winners were Mrs. A. Dowell, Mrs. F. G. Hope, Mrs. R. Waude and Mrs. W. Grey. Mrs. R. Bramley, secretary, were in charge of the arrangements, ably assisted by the committee.

Ldg. Wren Patricia K. Beard returned to Victoria Friday from overseas where she served with the Royal Navy and the Royal Canadian Navy as a motor transport driver. Ldg. Wren Beard will spend the week-end with her father, Cmdr. C. T. Beard at Koksilah, and will come to Victoria early in the week to be the guest of Capt. and Mrs. W. J. R. Beech, 1075 St. David Street.

Mrs. T. H. Johns was hostess this afternoon at her home, 2733 Somass Drive, in honor of Miss Marnie Johns and members of the graduating class of the Royal Jubilee Hospital. The rooms were decorated with spring flowers in the class colors, purple and gold. Tea was served from a table centred with purple and gold iris and paper white narcissi. Mrs. Clarence Johns assisted the hostess in receiving the guests. Presiding at the tea table were Mesdames T. M. Walker, H. F. Murphy, R. W. Murphy and Miss Lena Mitchell. Assisting in serving were Mesdames Norman Cook, Oscar Lucas, Harold Turner and N. Bekeov.

Mrs. L. W. Salter of Vancouver, with her son, Hugh Gye, arrived in Victoria today to attend the wedding of her only daughter, Helen de Costa, to George Clarke, next Wednesday evening, at the home of the groom-elect's parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Clarke, 3166 Davis Street. They are registered at the Fairfield Hotel.

Miss Irene Webb, a May bride-elect, was presented with a handsome beveled mirror accompanied by a corsage bouquet of pink carnations by the Rev. T. L. Leadbeater, when the A.Y.P.A. of Christ Church Cathedral held a social evening in the Memorial Hall in her honor Wednesday evening. Games were played and when refreshments were served the groom guest cut the prettily decorated cake. There were 40 guests present.

Members of the Alumni of St. Joseph's and Jubilee Hospitals entertained Friday afternoon at St. Joseph's Nurses' Home in honor of Miss Evelyn Mallory, president, also delegates to the Registered Nurses' Association convention, and Sisters of St. Joseph's Hospital, Spring blossoms, flanked by tall pink tapers in silver holders, centred the tea table at which Miss Rae Kirkendall and Mrs. G. Hutchinson presided. Assisting in serving refreshments were Mesdames R. Ditchburn, M. Hoffmeister, R. Hunter, D. MacLeod, R. Kersey, G. M. Duncan, D. Roberts and J. Moore.

Decorated Table Display Revived

Mrs. G. C. Parrott, left, and Mrs. Charles Watson, members of the committee in charge of arrangements for the decorated table display sponsored by the Junior Auxiliary to the Jubilee Hospital in the Empress Hotel Ballroom, Wednesday afternoon and evening. Mrs. R. B. Wilson is general convener. Mrs. Lillian Smith, president of the Business and Professional Women's Club, will present prizes.

The decorated table display, an annual event before wartime conditions made it necessary to discontinue the show in 1942, was started by the Business and Professional Women's Club. In later years the junior auxiliary took over from the business women's club. This year the display promises to be one of the outstanding events of the spring season.

Bride Carries Gift From Choir

A white prayer book, the gift of the church choir, topped with pink rosebuds, was carried by Catherine Mary, younger daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Skinner, 1804 Cook Street, at her marriage, Thursday evening, in St. Barnabas' Church, to Edward Thomas, Parkins, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Parkins, Toronto.

Rev. E. G. Munn performed the ceremony, and the hymn, "Lead Us, Heavenly Father, Lead Us," was sung by the choir and congregation as the bridal party proceeded up the aisle. Mrs. R. E. V. Yerburgh played the wedding music.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, chose a gown of white satin with applied sprays of roses, fashioned with net yolk and full skirt. Her embroidered net veil cascaded to the floor from a net cap.

Miss Betty Skinner, maid of honor, and Miss Yvonne Pettit, bridesmaid, were gowned alike in period models of turquoise blue tulle. Their matching half-hats were trimmed with veils, and held with gardenias.

They carried bouquets of pink roses and white snapdragons. Murray Douthright was groomsmen, and Bob Wiegand ushered.

A reception for 75 guests was held at the home of the bride's parents, where Monty Gosnell proposed the toast.

Leaving for a honeymoon in Toronto, Detroit and Port William, the bride wore a pearl grey dressmaker suit, cherry red topcoat, jewelry accessories and corsage bouquet of pink rosebuds and lily of the valley. Mr. and Mrs. Parkins will live in Victoria.

Plans Complete For Firemen's Ball

Plans have been completed for the annual ball of Victoria Fire Department, to be held May 10 in the Crystal Ballroom at the Empress Hotel.

A novel decorative theme has been arranged that includes a huge glittering fireman's helmet behind the orchestra dais, with smaller replicas of the hat at various spots around the ballroom.

Receiving the guests will be Fire Chief J. A. Raymond and the board of fire wardens of Victoria. Patrons and patronesses are Lieutenant-Governor W. C. Woodward and Mrs. Woodward, Premier John Hart and Mrs. Hart, Mayor P. E. George and Mrs. George, with the aldermen of the city and their wives.

J. A. McAllister is in charge of arrangements, assisted by J. Easton, K. Mills, G. Russell, W. Blair, Ed Hume, G. White and J. Chaplin.

Expansion Coming V.O.N. Leader Says

OTTAWA (CP) — With 25 years in the Victorian Order of Nurses behind her, 23 of them as its chief superintendent, Miss Elizabeth Smellie today looked forward to a future for the V.O.N. of extended work closely allied with Canada's public health and social work facilities.

"When we have better health we have a better country," she said in an interview, "and co-operation of activities is a subject on which I feel strongly."

In 1922 Canadian centres, the order now has 451 staff nurses who daily go about their duties dressed in neat navy-blue uniforms with small collars and navy pork-pie hats.

During the last year they made 756,984 calls to 100,000 cases, 25,000 more calls than last year. Miss Smellie said she expected new branches would be organized as soon as more nurses are available.

Discussion of industrial hygiene will have an important place at the order's annual meeting, starting here Monday, since the V.O.N. gives part-time nursing service to many small industries. Orthopedic nursing will be another main topic.

Chinese Art Week

Chinese Art Week, sponsored by the University Women's Club, will be inaugurated Monday afternoon in the Princess Louise Room at the Empress Hotel at 2.

Mrs. W. C. Woodward, accompanied by Mrs. D. L. MacLaurin, Miss Sara Spencer and a group of other patronesses will officially open this exhibition of paintings by two famous contemporary Chinese artists—the late Kao Weng and Miss Chung K'un-l.

With the consent of Miss Chung and Lau Wing Siu, owner of the collection, net proceeds from Chinese Art Week will go for relief of those in desperate need in Europe.

New Members Welcomed

Sir Matthew Baillie Begbie Chapter, I.O.E., welcomed three new members, Mesdames F. Hughes, E. R. V. Cuppage and J. W. Gilman, at their meeting. A sum of $300 was sent to the second war memorial and knitted goods to the value of $15.40 turned in to Municipal Chapter. The welfare convener reports Easter cheer given, visits to sick and shut-ins and cod liver oil donated to the V.O.N. for distribution. Next knitting meeting May 1 at the home of Mrs. Lawrence, 1412 Stadacona Avenue.

Nancy Hodges, M.L.A., Not Afraid of Age

VANCOUVER (CP) — Mrs. Nancy Hodges, M.L.A. for Victoria, is "57 and will soon be 58" and she doesn't give a raised Victoria eyebrow who knows it.

The not-so-feminine confession came when Mrs. Hodges was telling delegates to the annual meeting of the British Columbia Women's Liberal Association that "the time has come when women must take more interest in politics."

She recalled how the suffragettes had swung into action to get for women recognition "as citizens, not just ornaments."

The recollection, she admitted, "dated" her, so then she came out with the vital statistics. Women's humble place in politics, she said, is not the fault of men but of the women themselves. They are more critical of women than of men.

Hat Parade—Jill Tars were hostesses at their last meeting to Overseas Wives' Club and the Chatslain Club. An Easter hat parade was staged, pictures taken and refreshments served. There were 43 guests.

Concert Realizes $200 For Relief

A benefit concert sponsored by the French people of Victoria and their friends at Prince Robert House realized the sum of $200, which will be used to send parcels of food and clothing to elderly people in France.

Miss Kathleen Agnew was chairman and the concert was arranged by Mrs. H. D. Parizeau, Mde. V. Griffiths, Mde. F. Duffell and B. Le Franc. Appearing on the program were: Mrs. Gordon Downes, monologist; Mde. V. Griffiths, B. Lefranc and T. Kelway, soloists, and pupils of the Florence Clough School of Dancing. Mrs. C. C. Wain acted as accompanist.

Prince Robert House was loaned for the occasion through the courtesy of the Navy League of Canada.

Catherine King Wed Quietly Today

Taking place quietly this afternoon at 2 in First United Church before relatives and immediate friends, a pretty wedding ceremony united Catherine Dunbar King and William Frederick Walker.

Rev. Hugh A. McLeod read the service for the elder daughter of Mrs. Elizabeth L. King of Ladysmith, and the late James King, and the only son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter M. Walker, 3375 Weald Road, Uplands.

Given in marriage by Wymond M. Walker, the bride made a lovely picture in her toe-touching white gown, the fitted bodice of satin fashioned with a high neckline, and featuring lace inserts in the long sleeves, pointed over the hands. An heirloom veil of embroidered net swept to the hem of the bride's full lace skirt from a dainty half-hat, and she carried a cascade bouquet of lily of the valley and white freesias.

Twin frocks of hyacinth blue with bouffant skirts of tulle and lace bodices, identical to that of the bride, were chosen by the bridesmaids, Miss Marion V. King and Miss Shirley Walker. Crowns of pale pink roses with a frill of pink net fashioned their tiny hats, and they carried shower bouquets of pink carnations and heather. Elbow-length gloves of the hyacinth blue completed the bridesmaids' ensembles.

Pretty blonde Linda James of Ladysmith was the petite flower girl, frocked in floor-length white net, Empire styled, with pink carnations in the crown of her half-hat. She carried pink carnations and forget-me-nots in colonial arrangements. Groomsman was George Harknett, and ushering were Geoffrey Robbins and Jim MacArthur.

A reception was held at the home of the groom's parents, Weald Road, where they were assisted in receiving by the bride's mother and her aunt, Mrs. D. McRae.

Leaving for a motoring honeymoon in California, the bride wore a leaf-green two-piece suit, matching topcoat with white fox cuffs, sailor model hat in leaf-green, and a corsage bouquet of gardenias. Mr. and Mrs. Walker will make their home in Victoria.

Registered Nurses Sessions Continue Today

Delegates attending the convention include, from the left, Misses Marjorie Fletcher, Chelmainus; Esther Paulson, Emily Nelson and Elizabeth Bruand, Vancouver. Miss Paulson is honorary secretary of the association.

Final sessions of the 34th annual meeting of the Registered Nurses' Association of British Columbia were held today at the Empress Hotel.

Reports of districts and reports of sections were heard. At the morning session Miss Elizabeth Otterbine spoke on general nursing; Miss Emily Nelson on hospital and school of nursing and Miss Trevena Hunter on public health.

Friday evening G. N. Griffin, well-known educationalist and psychologist, addressed the meeting. His subject, "Ships of Life" included discussion on kinship, scholarship, citizenship, friendship and worship.

More than 200 delegates, members and guests attended the luncheon arranged by Victoria Chapter on Friday. Miss Marjorie Baird presided and special guests were Mrs. P. E. George, Miss Rae Kirkendale and Mrs. Nan Robinson. Three student nurses of the Jubilee Hospital, Misses Mary Maximenko, Joyce Robinson and Mary Kemble entertained with musical selections.

The Canadian Nurses' Association is seeking financial assistance for the carrying out of an experiment in nursing education, to determine if it is possible to graduate nurses in less than three years' training in hospitals as at present required. Miss Evelyn Mallory, president of the provincial association, stated at the Friday morning session.

WAR CHANGED PEOPLE

One of the unexpected tragedies of the war is the disappointment that so many husbands and wives have experienced in their reunion. Through all the long, bleak days of loneliness and anxiety while they were parted, being back together was the one thing that they had looked forward to, that they had dreamed about and prayed for. It was to have been the one perfect moment in their lives, when all the pentup love and longing of their souls would burst their dams and flood their world with joy.

But in so many cases Johnny's return from the war hasn't been like that. After the first excitement of being at home again everything has fallen flat. Nothing has been like either the husband or the wife pictured it. There has not been the reunion of lovers. It has been the meeting of strangers who are awkward and shy with each other and who feel that there is a wall between them that they do not know how to break down.

UNLIKE LETTERS THEY WROTE

Among all the pathetic letters that come to this column none are sadder than those written by wives who are hurt and bewildered by the attitude of their husbands since they came back from overseas. They say that their husbands' letters from the front were filled with expressions of affection for them and the children and of longing to be back home, and with plans for the many things they would do together when they returned.

"But now," say these tearful wives, "that our husbands have come back, they are restless and dissatisfied and irritable. Nothing we do seems to please them. The children's noise gets on their nerves. Our talk about domestic affairs bores them. They won't take us out anywhere. They grouse over the high cost of living. And they are no more like the gay, companionable, understanding husbands who went to war than if they were another race of human beings."

And the husbands, on their part, are just as much disillusioned in finding that their wives have changed from glamour girls into settled women, as the wives are in discovering that their Sunny Jims have turned into grouches. And it is all very pitiful but inevitable, for none of us stay static. No man and woman who went through the war, either on the home front or the battle front, remain unchanged. Danger and death and work and worry took their toll of them and left their ineffaceable marks upon them.

IDEALIZED

Perhaps the main reason why husbands and wives have found it hard to adjust themselves to each other after the war is because when they were separated each idealized the other and created a man and woman with virtues that are not of this world, and set them against a background of luxuries and beauty. To every woman her soldier husband was as handsome and gallant as any knight of old, and to every man his wife or the girl he left behind him was a combination of Miss America and a blue ribbon chef, and his home a palace to dream about.

And when he came back and found that Maria had gotten fat, and Maria discovered that war hadn't changed Johnny's looks or sweetened his disposition, and

Let's Eat!

Boy's Supper—Begrind one pound ground beef with one half cup celery, spread on six large bun halves. Broil and then top with other halves of buns, toasted—and if you can spare it—buttered.

Quick Trick—Heat one cup cooked or canned peas with a can of undiluted cream of mushroom soup. Serve over potato chips. Children adore it!

Added Touch—Some canned yellow corn in the pancake batter. Bacon makes this menu even better.

Know Your Onions—The secret with creamed ones is smart seasoning. Try a pinch of mustard in the sauce and shreds of yellow cheese atop the dish.

Try This—Sunday night suppers dishes sort of tax the minds. Make some fine, rich creamed salmon. Serve it on toast with poached eggs. And this is no breakfast dish. It's a supper repast.

For Sandwiches—Plant your self a row of mustard and a row of land-not water cress—now because the combination of the leaves of both is unbeatable between thin slices of bread, served with a cup of tea of a summer afternoon.

Vegetable Trick—Make celery root for salads whiter and more delicate tasting. Immediately after preparing throw in boiling water for a few minutes, then cut in strips.

And This One—Old fashioned bread and gravy is not to be sneezed at in these days of butter shortages. But see to it that the gravy is good. No lumps, please.

Victoria Drops Opening Ball Thriller, 4 to 3

Athletics Hit Homer, Steal Three Bases But Wenatchee's Late Rally Beats Them

By PETE SALLAWAY
Sports Editor, The Victoria Times

WENATCHEE—A thrilling two-run rally in the last of the ninth robbed Victoria Athletics of a win in their Western International League baseball opener here Friday when they bowed to Wenatchee, 4-3.

The narrow defeat—it was the closest game of all played in the league curtain-raiser Friday night—came after centre-fielder Eddie Murphy had given new life with a smashing home run over the left-field fence in the eighth to tie the score and two runs in ninth moved manager Laurel Harney's Victoria boys in front, 3-2.

It was a game that had everything to whet the appetite of the fans — five beautiful double plays; three by the Athletics; shutout pitching for five innings and the pilfering of three bases by Frank Cirmelli, speedy right-fielder and lead-off man of the Victoria club.

NO LOSS IN DEFEAT

Athletics lost nothing in defeat. They have a hustling club and one that is exceptionally strong through the middle. Young Walt Raimondi at short-stop looks like a real comer and partnered with Al Steele at second forms a deadly double play. It was a tough loss for big Tony Ferrara, speedball right-hander of the Athletics. For five innings he hurled two-hit ball and it was not until the fatal ninth that the Chiefs managed to cluster their hits, three safeties combined with an error accounting for two runs. Ferrara showed a neat fastball that he works in with a sweeping three-quarter side-arm curveball.

Chuck Cronin opened for Wenatchee and remained around until the Victoria rally in the ninth when he went to the showers in favor of lanky Gene Babbitt who retired the next two men to cut off their rally. Wenatchee out-hit Victoria 9 to 6, while Athletics were charged with three errors and Wenatchee a pair. The Athletics led 11 men stranded on the bases as against seven for the homesters.

Several times in the early stages the Athletics had good scoring chances but couldn't come through in the pinches.

EDDIE MURPHY... hits 350-foot homer.

The club definitely misses the power hitting of Pete Hughes, regular outfielder laid up with an injured leg. He will be out for another week. Wenatchee broke the string of goose eggs on the scoreboard in the sixth.

ATHLETICS TIE SCORE

Glen Stetter worked Ferrara for a walk, one of the five he issued, was sacrificed down to second and romped home on Eddie Barr's line single through Short. Athletics tied it up in the eighth on Murphy's 350 homer. Coming right back in their half Wenatchee took a one-run lead for the second time and once again it was the combination of Stetter and Barr. The former singled through the centre was advanced to second on a sacrifice and raced across the dish as Barr rolled the ball into right field.

Athletics appeared to have put the game in the bag with two runs to open the ninth. First sacker Hardy Mollath was passed and when Ferrara bunted the play was made for Mollath at second but too late. Cirmelli laid down another bunt and Cronin fumbled to load the bags. Murphy bounced a hit through the middle, scoring Mollath and Ferrara. That was all for Mr. Cronin. Mulcahy rolled weakly to C. Babbitt and Cirmelli was nipped at the plate. Third sacker Ian Lowe struck out for the third man.

WENATCHEE'S WINNING THRUST

Wenatchee opened their half of the ninth with outfielder Ernie Bertolotti, playing his first game of pro ball, dropping a single back to first. Fitzgerald laid down a bunt and everybody was safe as Mollath dragged his foot off the bag taking Ferrara's perfect toss. Babbitt crossed up the Victoria infield by laying one down the third-base line and the bags were loaded with no body out. Shortstop Fred Harrington bounced a single off Ferrara's glove and two runs were in to write finish to a fine season opener.

Manager Laurel Harney said after the game he was disappointed in the loss but was satisfied with the showing of the club under fire. "We didn't hit the ball as well as I expected but, after all, it was our first game," he said. "There are still a couple of weaknesses that have to be plugged, first base being one of them." Providing he reaches them tomorrow, as scheduled, Bob Jensen, on option from the San Francisco Seals of the Coast League, will work the second game of the series for the Athletics facing this Al Raimondi or Frank Bruno will get the call. Pre-game opening ceremony was marked by the tossing of the first ball by Elsie Beth Halvorsen, who will reign next week as Queen of the Apple Blossom Festival. Mayor Jack Rogers extended a warm welcome to the Victoria team, as 2,200 fans looked on.

Major Baseball

Feller Again Beaten

Baseball fans were wondering today whether blazing Cleveland Indians' Bobby Feller, he with that whip-lash for a right arm, had not left some of his vaunted speed on the high seas where he served a major portion of his 44 months in the United States Navy.

The former Boy Wonder, who was expected to notch anywhere between 25 and 30 victories this year, has dropped two of his three starts including Friday's skirmish with Chicago White Sox, of all teams.

The Sox, who usually roll over and play dead whenever Feller tosses his glove on the mound, shook him loose for five hits good for four runs and the ball game in the fifth frame.

Taking advantage of Feller's one bad inning, Chicago's Joe Haynes, who pitched a steady game for the Sox, registered his first victory of the season, 4 to 2. First place in the American League changed hands when Detroit Tigers, who had occupied that position, were shaded by St. Louis Browns, 3 to 2, and dropped into third place behind New York Yankees and Boston Red Sox. The Yankees, victorious over Washington Senators, 11 to 7, and the Red Sox, winners over Philadelphia Athletics, 7 to 0, moved up from their second-place tie into the top rung.

Brooklyn Dodgers, leading St. Louis Cardinals by a half-point in their merry race for first honors in the National League, stretched a winning streak to eight by knocking over the Giants for the fourth straight time, 11 to 3.

The Cards kept pace with the Dodgers by shading the Pittsburgh Pirates, 3 to 2, as Fred Martin, the Redbirds' highly touted rookie right-hander, held the Bucs scoreless until the ninth. Boston Braves and Philadelphia Phils were not scheduled while Chicago Cubs and Cincinnati Reds were rained out.

Gridiron Final Tomorrow

College and Johnny's Clash

Macdonald Park tomorrow afternoon will be the scene of sports action when St. Louis College and Johnny's Coffee Shop gridiron warriors clash in the spring season's windup of the Victoria Canadian Football League.

These two aggregations, who fought their way to premier berths in the short season of play under American rules with only a single defeat marked against them—this loss being suffered by the Java lads—will meet in an argument to decide the silverware holders.

Both teams have had a two-week layoff from action and from both camps come reports that teams will be at their best strength. And officials are anticipating a hard, rugged battle before a winner is decided.

The defeat handed the Johnny's was administered by their Sunday opposition.

City Golf Play Opens Tomorrow

Have you tried the New Colgate NYLON Toothbrush? Colgate—with 140 years' experience in mouth care—knows just what you need in a toothbrush for thorough dental care. Look what this scientifically designed Colgate Toothbrush gives you: Gentle Nylon Bristles that can't get soggy... Bristles placed just right for proper between-teeth cleansing... A special design that makes it easy to clean upper and lower back teeth. And no more mouthbrush confusion—there's a different-color handle for each member of your family. Every Colgate Toothbrush is fully guaranteed! Regular size 29c; child size 19c.

Provincial Board of Health Workers from centres throughout the province, was wound up Friday afternoon. The conference will probably be repeated in Victoria next year.

At the final session Friday afternoon, Dr. G. F. Amyot, director of the Provincial Board of Health, outlined achievements of the service during the past year and summarized work for the coming year.

He said it was planned to effect certain changes in administration of public health units.

R. Bowring, director of public health engineering, outlined proposed new sanitation regulations which may be effected this year. Final talks on job instruction training in a 10-hour series were given by Gordon Dubberley, field representative of the supervisory training, Canadian vocational program.

2 Island Students Win Scholarships

Award of a bursary of $450 to D. A. Scott, Victoria, and a studentship of $750 to D. B. Tonks, Cumberland, was announced Friday by the National Research Council at Ottawa.

The two island men were named in a list of 131 students who will receive scholarships from the National Research Council totaling $59,850.

Successful students are graduates of 21 Canadian colleges and universities, and will carry on their scholarship studies at 25 university graduate schools.

The $750 studentship will enable Mr. Tonks to study organic chemistry at McGill University. He is a graduate of the University of British Columbia, as is Mr. Scott, who will be enabled to continue studies of metallurgy at the university.

Unveil Memorial Window

Rev. J. L. W. McLean announces on behalf of the congregation of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church receipt of the gift of a large stained glass window with scripture theme, "The Resurrection Morn." This window is the gift of Miss Bell Nicol. It will be unveiled and dedicated at the morning service Sunday.

Two Friends Talk With Christ

By WILLIAM E. GILROY, D.D.

Scripture: Luke 24:13-35

Of all the resurrection stories, the most amazing, and yet the most convincing, seems to me to be that which relates the meeting of the two unknown disciples with an unknown stranger.

The disciples, you will remember, were journeying from Jerusalem to Emmaus after the crucifixion of Jesus. At the end of their journey, the unknown stranger was revealed as the risen Lord.

It is an astonishing story, miraculous in the highest degree. It is amazing in the failure of the disciples to recognize the companion who joined them; in the fact that He partook of the meal with them, proving His presence to be something more than a specter of their imagination; in their immediate and clear recognition of Him as He broke bread, blessed it, and gave it to them; and in His vanishing at that very moment of recognition. Could there be a stranger story?

Yet to me it is just as incredibly convincing. It puts the evidence of Christ's Resurrection on the plane of something higher than legends, traditions, or wondrous tales.

I note first the plain matter-of-fact way in which it is told. There is no suggestion of embellishment of the story's spiritual fact and significance. It is related with a restraint and with a spiritual emphasis that is the best evidence of its integrity and authenticity.

Such a story would have been beyond human invention. We may be sure that Luke is telling what actually happened.

One of the two travelers was Cleophas, unknown except for this reference, and the other is not identified. It is possible, indeed probably, that the latter was of the company of disciples at the last supper in the upper room, for he quickly recognized the companion when He broke and blessed the bread as He had at the last supper.

It is in the reference to the burning hearts that the story is most appealing. "Did not our hearts burn within us, while He talked with us by the way, and while He opened to us the scriptures?"

We of today need no miraculous events or appearances to open the scriptures for us. The meaning of the Christ, His purpose in coming to the world, the power of His salvation, and the fact of His spiritual presence are all made plain to people living now.

If we do not apprehend them it is because we are dull and lack spiritual insight, not because no provision has been made for our enlightenment. What more do we need than this very story of the disciples on the way to Emmaus, and of what they discovered as they met their risen Lord?

Do our hearts burn within us as we read these things? Does Easter mean for us a joyous meeting with the Christ, and a gladness in the scriptures which have been opened?

A more formal belief that Jesus was resurrected from the dead is of little worth, unless He be risen indeed in our hearts.

Grauer Sees Permanent B.C. Industrial Expansion

A. E. "Dal" Grauer, B.A., Ph.D., 40-year-old newly-appointed president of the British Columbia Power Corporation, gave two reasons here today for present expansion of the province's industry.
Mr. Grauer said the war had given stimulus to British Columbia industry to develop new skills and knowledge in production.
Second reason for industrial expansion, he said, was an expanding market west of the Rockies. He pointed out that Vancouver Island and the lower mainland now had a population of 600,000 whereas a short time ago this figure was the population of the entire province.
"The influx to B.C.," he said, "means that the various manufacturers are finding a worthwhile market at their front door."

Mr. Grauer described increased industrial activity in the province as a permanent change. He pointed out that the British Columbia Power Corporation had recently let a contract in excess of $800,000 to the Western Electric Company, a provincial concern.
This contract for steel towers to carry the high tension lines from Bridge River to Vancouver was the first of its type to be let in B.C. The company's ability to handle it, he said, was a direct result of skills learned in wartime.

As examples in expansion of Canadian industry he cited letting of contracts for new gas plants in Victoria and Vancouver to the John Inglis Company of Toronto. Before the war they would have gone to British or American firms.
Mr. Grauer said the British Columbia Electric's "Business is Moving to B.C." campaign was being handled by the industrial development division which was assisting small industries to convert to peacetime production as part of the drive.
"For instance," he said, "we believe in encouraging small concerns formerly occupied entirely in sub-contracts for wartime production to now convert to producing household equipment."

He pointed out that freight from the east port B.C. industry in an enviable position in competition here.
Mr. Grauer was enthusiastic about the reception accorded trolley coaches in other cities. He said that Winnipeg had put in two trolley coach routes before the war. It had been necessary to also use buses on some of the lines and the company there had found passengers allowed the buses to go by, preferring to wait for the crowded trolley coaches.
San Francisco, he said, was in the same transportation situation as Victoria and the city had come to the conclusion that trolley coaches would prove the most efficient vehicles on "settled" lines.
Mr. Grauer said that if the B.C. Electric received the franchise to serve Victoria the company hoped to have a complete system of trolley coaches and buses in operation by the end of 1947.

Workers On 'Fast' Time

Victoria-Vancouver service of Canadian Pacific Air Lines will operate on daylight saving time when "fast" time goes into effect at midnight, J. A. Barber, B.C. district traffic manager, has announced.
Mr. Barber said a general change of schedules will be effective May 1 to Quesnel, Prince George, Peace River, Yukon, Alaska, and north, east and west Vancouver Island. He said that to avoid confusion the company had decided to operate all trips out of Victoria and Vancouver on daylight saving time, and, therefore, passengers leaving for all points north, both in the interior and on the island, will gain one hour.
The Victoria-Vancouver service, while operating on daylight-saving time, will continue to operate at the same time as in the past year. All departure times advertised in the newspapers are daylight saving time.

Speakers include: Senator T. Rabbitt, Washington; Malcolm McLeod, B.C. Federation of Labor; W. Caird, President Joint Shipyards Council; R. Mezger, Sec. Treas. Victoria Labor Council; Rev. W. W. McPherson, Ministerial Association; Councillor R. Noble, Saanich; chairman, T. A. Mitchell.

Kenney Chairman of B.C. Drive For Clothing June 17 to 29

The second Canadian-wide clothing drive, to secure clothing for the needy of Europe, will be conducted in British Columbia June 17 to 29, it was announced here today by R. F. Pratt, executive director of the national clothing drive, and C. P. Pickering, of the drive's management committee.
Premier John Hart has named Lands and Forests Minister E. T. Kenney as B.C. chairman for the drive, which will be conducted by the Canadian Allied Relief Fund.
As yet no target has been set for British Columbia's drive. That will be decided later by Mr. Kenney and associates.
In the drive conducted last year, however, British Columbia donated 1,242,071 pounds of clothes, or 1.51 pounds per capita. This total of clothes actually shipped to Europe represented the greatest per capita contribution of any province of the Dominion.
Each province during the drive will act as an individual unit. The clothing collected, after it has been absorbed and baled, will be turned over at seaboard to Unrra for distribution at Unrra's discretion to the needy of Europe.
Mr. Pratt pointed out that the drive was necessary for while the Canadian government could appropriate sums to buy food for the starving of Europe, money would not buy textiles since they were not available. The only surplus are clothes not in use in the homes of Canadians.

Butcher Shops Packed, Close Early; Some Meat in Sight

A meat packing house with its "coolers empty, and no cars in sight," and a number of local butchers "cleaned out" early in the day, some by 11 this morning—that was the picture of the meat situation as revealed by a canvass of wholesalers and retail meat dealers in Victoria today.
While closing early today and expecting to be open only a few hours, if at all, Monday, some butchers anticipated meat supplies in Tuesday. Two packing houses expect a car each on Monday.
Few butchers had made preparations for closing several days next week, however, for all were hoping the wholesalers would receive word of more shipments. They are operating on an hour-to-hour basis, and it will be the same next week. If the shelves are bare of meat they will close.
"I will have a car in Monday, but it will only be about 50 per cent of the normal quota, and I don't know what kind of meat will be in it," said one wholesaler. Another wholesaler said he expected a car Monday, but that it would not be up to the normal quota.
A third said he had supplied no meat since last Thursday, and was "absolutely cleaned out." Retailers who depended on his firm for the bulk of their supplies would be out, he said, with no cars in sight and no indications of when one might be coming through.

STORES JAMMED
In the meantime, butchers in every section of the city found their stores packed with customers this morning, and the telephone ringing constantly.
Edward Harvey of Harvey's Meat Market, said he was out of roasts by 9:20, and expected to close up by 11. Some cooked meats might keep the store open for a time Monday, but he was not expecting anything from the wholesalers before Tuesday, he said.

"Our market has been full and the telephone bouncing off the wall," said a butcher at the Burnside Meat Market. The store, he added, would probably close early this afternoon and be open for an hour or so Monday. "Our supply is pretty thin now," he said.

Robert Flint, manager of the Hillside Pure Foods Community Store, said the meat department would close this afternoon, and that he did not expect to have any meat until Tuesday.
OPTIMISTIC NOTE
Only optimistic note was that struck by P. W. Smoother, who said he would have enough meat to keep going until next Saturday. "It may not be just the cuts people want, but they won't have to go hungry."

Supplies of canned meats are expected in the city next week, while limited amounts of veal, lamb and pork continue to come through. Fowl is also prominently displayed in the butcher shops. The meat shortage hits at beef supplies.
Reports from the prairies state that the Union stockyards at St. Boniface, centre of the Greater Winnipeg packing industry, yesterday had miles of empty pens, and its marketing machinery was at a standstill. Receipts were lowest in 50 years.

Two names were added today to the list of British wives coming to Canada aboard the liner Letitia to join their husbands here. They are Mrs. Margaret Grace Kilner, traveling to Nanaimo, and Mrs. Violet Joan Larson, proceeding to 1013 Queen's Avenue. Name of Mrs. Flora Isabelle Butt, destined for Colquitz, was deleted from the Letitia list.
